DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “apparatus for brewing” associated with the coffee maker body of claim 1 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 1761

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 5, it is not clear how the coffee maker body slides. There is recited no means to perform the sliding function.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. There is no support provided in the specification for the coffee maker body equipped with an apparatus for brewing coffee. The specification only discloses a means for supplying water associated with the coffee maker body.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McGuffin et al. in view of Frankenstein.

There is disclosed in McGuffin a folding coffee maker, comprising: a coffee maker body 20 equipped with an apparatus 46, 54 for brewing coffee; a folding holder 22 fixed to the body and capable of holding a coffee server 32 when in the folded position; and a lock mechanism 68, 70 fixed to the coffee maker body and in contact with a bottom of the holder for locking the holder to the coffee maker body.

Frankenstein discloses the use of plural sets of folding arms 56, 58, each set having plural arms linked revolvably, to support a folding holder 48 between an extended (folded) position and an unfolded position.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the hinge of McGuffin with the folding arms disclosed in Frankenstein, in order to provide a support which could hold a greater amount of weight applied to the holder.

Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Rabadi et al.

Rabadi discloses the use of a coffee maker supported by a galley within an aircraft, the galley providing a source of water and a sliding connection for the coffee maker body to allow a drawn position for using the device and a stowage position when not in use.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the coffee maker of McGuffin et al., as modified by Frankenstein, with the coffee maker support (galley) disclosed in Rabadi, in order to use the device as a mobile coffee maker.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Brown and Tarozzi are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
